

FORECAST—Strong southerly winds or gales, shifting to south-west, partly cloudy and cool with rain squalls. Friday, westerly winds, much the same temperature with a few scattered showers.

Covered Wagons, 1940

This long line of covered wagons is not a Hollywood company on location for filming a western. In these mat-covered wagons Germans living in Bessarabia have trekked to the Danube to be ferried back to Germany as part of repatriation movement since Russia annexed the former Rumanian province. Scene is receiving camp for Germans at Galatz, Besarabia. Nearly 45,000 Germans are being repatriated.

The War Today

By GUY RHODES

FUTILE
Germany was reported today to have ordered all Germans in Greece to leave that country, a move that caused some to believe Hitler might be about to send his troops to help the sorely tried Italians who have been kicking futilely at Greece's back door for the last 11 days.

How Germany could get troops to the Greek front was something of a puzzle but it is known she already has sent thousands into Rumania, possibly in the hope of acquiring transit rights through Bulgaria which would enable her to join Italy in attacking Greece on two fronts.

STIFFENING
Whether she could also obtain transit rights through Yugoslavia was a question made more difficult today by a stiff Yugoslav declaration that she will answer with armed force any further violation of her territory such as occurred two days ago when planes identified by ground watchers as Italian, bombed a border town, killing a number of civilians.

While such speculation lacked confirmation it was given added strength by hints that the Italian big push had started against Greece and that at its western extremity the Greek 'line' had yielded slightly to pressure.

SHIFLED
The Albanian city of Koritza which the Greeks have been shelling for several days apparently remained in Italian hands and military experts—despite the reports the city had fallen with 30,000 defenders—said they believed the Greeks would not occupy it. An attempted occupation, these experts said, would bring the Greeks out onto the plains and expose them to the force of Italian mechanized troops which they avoid by staying in the mountains.

There appeared a consensus throughout the world that the reelection of President Roosevelt for a third term had strengthened the hands of non-Axis powers resisting "new orders" in Europe and Asia. A Japanese spokesman was the only Axis official who voiced any concern over the election and he said Mr. Roosevelt should alter his Far East policy in favor of Japan.

German Threat Bars Refugees

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States State Department announced this afternoon that Germany had refused to give any assurance of safe conduct for an American ship to enter an Irish port to bring home 1,250 U.S. citizens now in Great Britain, although Italy had given such an assurance promptly.

The German government was said to have declared the areas around Britain are "zones of military operations" and that Berlin is "not in a position to furnish any sort of assurance of the nature requested."

In view of the German government's attitude, it was believed the ship would not be sent.

Final Bulletins

Night Raiders Light Sky Over London

LONDON (CP)—Fast-flying German raiders lit the sky with flames tonight and then hit London with fire and explosive bombs.

Other attacks were reported over Liverpool, on the west coast, in an after-dark follow-up to forays by light and heavy bombers from the south coast to Scotland.

In the day's battles the Air Ministry announced seven German planes had been shot down.

Two formations of German planes made unsuccessful attacks during the day on Britain's big naval base at Portsmouth.

No Aid From Eire

DUBLIN (CP)—Prime Minister Eamon de Valera told the Dail (Parliament) tonight that there can be no question of handing over Irish ports to Britain so long as Eire remains neutral.

(Prime Minister Churchill told the House of Commons Tuesday that inability to use Irish ports as bases had placed "a grievous burden" on the Royal Navy in its task of patrolling the Atlantic shipping lanes.)

Nazi Factory Blasted

LONDON (CP)—The Air Ministry issued the following communique tonight:

"During daylight raids carried out by Royal Air Force aircraft yesterday, heavy bombs were dropped on a factory at Salzgitter in northwest Germany. As each bomb hit the target a green flame shot up, turning to red, and when our aircraft came away the factory was seen to be ablaze."

MONK CALLED NAZI AGENT
—Reports from British sources charged that the former Duke Charles Alexander of Wuertemberg, above, now a Benedictine monk under the name of Father Odo, is a secret Hitler agent in the U.S., to support an imminent Nazi peace push. Father Odo is pictured on his recent arrival in New York, where his secretary called the British charges "ridiculous."

WILLKIE GAINS ANOTHER STATE

WASHINGTON (AP)—This afternoon President Roosevelt led in 38 states with 449 electoral votes, Wendell Willkie in 10 with 82.

Popular vote: Mr. Roosevelt's majority was 4,386,252. With 119,820 of the nation's 127,245 precincts counted, the total major party vote was 47,769,250, of which Roosevelt polled 26,077,751 and Willkie 21,691,499.

Senate: Twenty-two Democrats, 13 Republicans and 1 Progressive elected, giving Republicans a net gain of 4.

House: Democrats elected 268, Republicans 162, Farmer-Labor 1, American Labor 1, Progressive 3, Independent Democrat 1. Democrats took 22 seats from Republicans, Republicans took 15 from Democrats, Progressives took 1 from Republicans.

Governors: Seventeen Democrats and 15 Republicans elected. 1 undecided. Republicans ousted 6 Democratic governors, Democrats ousted four Republicans.

Michigan for Willkie

DETROIT (AP)—Complete unofficial returns gave Wendell L. Willkie a margin of 1,571 this afternoon in his race with President Roosevelt for Michigan's 19 electoral votes. Election tabulation began a recheck of their figures, and it was apparent the outcome would not be determined until the official canvass.

Crash Kills 8

PIESTONE, Minn. (AP)—The death toll of a crash near here last night reached eight this afternoon with the death of Elmer Barnes, 21, driver of the gravel truck that collided with a car containing eight persons. Seven passengers, including three children, of the car were killed.

Trainees Leave Gordon Head

Soldiers for Month, Now Civilians Again

Civilians once again, after a month's compulsory military training, 850 21-year-olds streamed out of Gordon Head camp today and started for their homes in various parts of the province.

The first to leave were the men from up-island centres. They went away in a fleet of buses. Half an hour later the Victoria men were on their way home.

The first group of mainland trainees left on the regular afternoon steamer for Vancouver, and the largest group, from Vancouver centre, went away on a special steamer.

They left the camp spottily clean, and their uniforms were neatly stacked for the next group of trainees, due November 22.

LEAVE FOR CALL

During the month, under the guidance of expert officers and noncommissioned ranks, the men learned the rudiments of military

Tacoma Bridge Blows Over

TACOMA (AP)—The new $6,400,000 Tacoma Narrows Bridge, spanning an arm of Puget Sound near here, cracked up and fell 190 feet into Puget Sound today. No lives were lost.

The 2,800-foot centre span, third longest suspension span in the world, fell into the water soon after the bridge had begun to sway crazily in a high wind this morning.

Shortly before noon the giant structure's two 1,000-foot approaches on either end began to give way, cracked into small pieces and fell away.

The bridge, opened only five months ago, connected the mainland with the Olympic Peninsula.

Only the two 425-foot steel towers sunk to a depth of 247 feet, were standing this afternoon, with the two 1,000-foot bridge approaches.

The 2,800-foot roadway, all cables, concrete and other parts had fallen into the sound.

Last person on the bridge was Leonard Coatsworth, a Tacoma News Tribune reporter who abandoned his automobile and crawled 500 yards on his hands and knees to shore while the bridge bed tipped to as much as a 45 degree angle. He said the bridge was "weaving sideways."

The bridge was nicknamed "Galloping Gertie" shortly after it had been opened, because of a strange weaving motion it developed.

The buck has always been accentuated by wind.

Italians Start 'Big Push'

ATHENS (AP)—Italy's big push against Greece, supreme test in this little nation's fight for life, apparently has started.

The Greek high command acknowledged that its evzones, or mountain fighters, had been forced into a "slight" retreat along the Ionian Sea, on the Epirus or Kalamas front, in northwestern Greece.

After eight days of marking time on the banks of the Kalamas River, constantly harassed by Greek artillery, planes and roving patrols, the Italian high command claimed today that the river had been crossed.

Reports reaching London by radio hinted that the big Italian drive, anticipated by the Greeks, had begun. The push was forecast yesterday in London.

Heavy artillery and aerial bombardment yesterday preceded the Italian Kalamas thrust. The extent of the Greek withdrawal was not disclosed.

The Kalamas River, roughly paralleling the Albanian border from 5 to 15 miles inside Greece, is one of the first natural barriers to the Italian coastal drive from Albania.

Greece turned out her own small air force, now bolstered by British planes, to assail the advancing Italian columns.

Koritza Fight Watched for Turn

Conceivably a successful Italian thrust along the coast, threatening Greek lines of supply deeper inland, might force abandonment of the Greeks' own salient now threatening Koritza, Italian invasion base 10 miles inside Albania.

Conversely, capture of Koritza, now dominated by Greek mountain artillery, 100 miles northeast of the Kalamas front, conceivably might slow down or even halt the Italian coastal drive through a rearward thrust.

Reports reaching Belgrade, Yugoslavia, from the Koritza sector, indicated the possibility of a decisive battle in the next few days. Both sides were said to be bringing up reinforcements.

(The Italians had concentrated a large number of motorized units and tanks in the Koritza valley, while their planes fanned out to smash at nearby Phlorina and surrounding villages. In return Greek and British airmen blasted at Koritza and Agrocastro, in Albania.)

Main Forces Now Engaged

Italian forces were reliably reported to have established contact with the main Greek defence lines on the Epirus front. The main body of the Greek army was said to be firmly entrenched in well fortified positions, however, and neutral military experts said these would be difficult to approach.

Meanwhile it was disclosed that Italy had changed the types of bombing and fighting planes used in the campaign. Fast monoplane, both for bombing and machine gun fighting, appeared for the first time yesterday in the place of second-line biplanes first used.

The change was believed by neutral experts to have been brought about by the heavy loss inflicted on the Fascists by the Greek air force and the increasing air aid supplied by Britain.

Greeks Shell Supply Lines

Latest reports from the northern front indicated that Koritza was completely at the mercy of Greek forces in command of the surrounding mountains.

Italian supply lines and air-dromes were said to be covered by Greek artillery hidden high in the mountains.

Military experts doubted the Greeks would attempt to push down into the plains and seize the city. Such a move would serve no good purpose, these men asserted and would put the Greeks at the mercy of Italian mechanized forces. By clinging to the mountains the Greeks are in a much more favorable position to beat off an Italian attack without suffering costly losses themselves.

1,000 Italians Held as Prisoners

Unofficial reports said the Greeks had captured at least 1,000 Italians in the push towards Koritza and had destroyed at least a dozen tanks—mostly light machines designed for mountain warfare and similar to those used by the Italians in the Spanish civil war.

Both British and Greek planes were said to be backing up the ground operations by pounding Italian troop concentrations and supply lines heavily.

British fighter planes also joined Greek craft yesterday in patrolling Athens and its port.

Piraeus, and were credited with turning back two raiding Italian squadrons.

The Greeks said the Italians had bombed the cities of Volos, Patras, Larissa and the Island of Zante, but declared casualties and damage were slight.

(Reports from Belgrade, Yugoslavia, said the Italian air force had bombed the Greek town of Phlorina, east of Koritza, several times yesterday. Half the town and most of the Greek villages in that area said to have been razed with heavy casualties.)

Jugoslavs Ready For Armed Defence

BELGRADE (AP)—The Yugoslav press praised today the government's announcement it would answer with "armed force" any repetition of attacks on Yugoslav territory such as the bombing of Bitolj Tuesday by unidentified foreign planes.

General Peter Pesitch took over the war ministry portfolio relinquished last night by General Milan Nedko, reported to have resigned because government orders had prevented Yugoslav troops from firing on the planes which bombed Bitolj.

BRITISH PREPARE TO BOMB ROME

LONDON (CP)—Richard Butler, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, told the House of Commons today that Britain must "reserve full liberty of action in regard to Rome" since Italian fighters had bombed London.

Air Marshal Sir Philip Joubert said last night the Royal Air Force "certainly will attack Rome as and when it suits us." The noted soldier and airman was speaking on the British Broadcasting Corporation's "Britain Speaks" feature.

"It would be a pity to attack Rome," Sir Philip said, "but if the need arises no doubt we shall steel ourselves to this act of vandalism. It would not be the first time that an invader from the north has laid the city of Rome in ruins."

The Italians first bombed London from a base on the French side of the Channel October 24. When Italy entered the war Mussolini's government declared Rome an open (or undefended) city not used for military purposes, in order to preserve its antiquities from destruction by bombs.

It has not been bombed, but last Monday had an early morning air raid alarm. The reason for the alarm is not known.

Since the war began with Greece, the Italian radio has broadcast a pledge that Athens would be spared by Italian bombers unless Rome is raided. Athens itself has not yet been bombed.

Brindisi Blasted

CAIRO (AP)—British bombers made a punishing raid on Brindisi, vital port and naval base at the heel of the Italian "boot." Royal Air Force headquarters here announced tonight.

Alive—After 70 Days of Horror

This records the ending of one of the most tragic dramatic sagas of the sea in recent years. On August 21, the British freighter Anglo-Saxon sank 500 miles off the Azores. Seven men took to a lifeboat. In the 70 horror-ridden days of sea and sky, five of them died or committed suicide. Two men, Brian and Edward, a few fish and rainwater, managed to reach Bonaventure Island in the Bahamas. They're pictured here, George Thompson, left, and Wilbert Wildcombe, so weak and emaciated he had to be carried, after being down to Nantux for hospitalization.

City Swept By Gale

Macaulay Point Strewn With Lumber From Barge

A boisterous storm ranging in velocity up to about 50 miles an hour swept over the city during the night and this morning, kicking up a dirty sea in the straits and scattering lumber all over the Macaulay Point coastline.

In the height of the gale a barge broke away from its moorings at Ogden Point and drifted ashore at Macaulay, the Songhees Timber Company of Esquimalt losing 150,000 feet of lumber.

In Cadboro Bay, the Island Tug and Barge Company Ltd. nursed five beams of logs as the storm ripped over the coast. Due to the smart work of the men aboard the tug Burrard Chief only 15 logs got adrift, representing but 15,000 feet out of a total of 1,500,000 feet. These few logs were being recovered today.

Between 9 and 10 last night the storm reached a maximum of 48 miles an hour. It continued blowing in heavy gusts, accompanied by downpours of rain.

This morning the wind had switched to the southwest, registering from 45 to 48 miles, according to the Gonzales Meteorological Observatory. While pedestrians experienced an uncomfortable time in the city this morning, no serious damage to property was reported.

The high wind downed an electric light pole at Fairfield Road and Vancouver Street, temporarily blocking traffic, requiring the attention of a repair gang.

The gusty blasts smashed several cluster lights in the city and a portion of the cornice over the Old Country Shoe Store on Johnson Street was blown off onto the sidewalk.

The city engineer's office and lights department reported minor damage. A tree blown down on Fifth Street was cleared away after smashing telephone wires and lights were burned out through short circuits.

SEE-SAW CONTEST IN WASHINGTON

SEATTLE (AP)—Washington's heated gubernatorial race will not be settled until next week when an approximate 23,000 absentee votes are counted. This was made certain today when, with but 75 of the state's precincts missing, Mayor Arthur B. Langlie of Seattle, Republican nominee, was leading his Democratic opponent, former Senator C. C. Dill, by only 4,522.

Unofficial returns from 2,940 out of the state's 3,019 precincts gave Langlie 267,225 and Dill 263,705.

One of the most spectacular election races in the state's history—how Langlie got down a heavy lead rolled up early Wednesday morning by Dill to go out in front at one point last night by 7,000 votes.

Returns from 45 rural King County precincts shifted the lead and Langlie lost further ground when additional returns were received from Spokane County, Dill's home district, and Grays Harbor County.

A lady who studies wholesome, appetizing, body-building food without extra expense for her family, sends this recipe for a nice potato dish: Potatoes boiled, cold, cubed, covered with Pacific Milk, dotted with buttered browned crumbs or grated cheese. ## Wife Informed Nazis Hold Canadian

NOTTINGHAM, Eng. (CP)—Seventy-five days after he wrote the letter, the wife of Lance Corporal Harry Nicholls, V.C., formerly of Calgary, has received the first direct news from her husband in a German prison camp.

When the V.C. award was announced in August, Nicholls was believed to have been killed, but later Mrs. Nicholls was informed by his commanding officer in the Grenadier Guards that he was a prisoner.

Means Test To Be Altered

LONDON (CP)—The means test, the regulation in relation to unemployment assistance and supplementary allowances which for years was a target of criticism by the Labor Party, will be altered by a bill to be introduced before Christmas.

Announcing the change, Prime Minister Churchill told the Commons personal need would be the yardstick. "No applicant without resources of his own will be left dependent on other members of his household for means to buy clothing and other personal requirements," he promised.

Vichy Not Interested

VICHY (AP)—A French spokesman said the Vichy government had little interest in the United States election since "it concerns only the American hemisphere, and we have no right to express an opinion."

Diplomatic observers, however, said the election had been followed with keen interest by the French people.

Nazi Railway Yards, Airports, Ships Blasted

R.A.F. Bombs Berlin Plants, Channel Guns

LONDON (CP)—Long range British warplanes bombed the Berlin suburbs and a railway junction northwest of the German capital during the night, the Air Ministry reported today.

Attacks also were made, a communique declared, "on synthetic oil plants at Leuna and Hamburg, factories near Dusseldorf, the inland port of Duisburg and railway yards and junctions at Halle, Pretsch, on the Elbe, and near Cologne."

Other squadrons bombed long-range German gun emplacements at Cap Gris Nez on the French coast.

Plants in Spandau Raked By Bombs

The Berlin suburb attacked was identified as Spandau, where the Air Ministry said the raiders had attacked industrial plants.

The Royal Air Force operations were described as "extensive."

In daylight attacks yesterday, British bombers were reported to have pounded oil refineries at Salzgitter, starting great fires.

Another daylight attack, the communique said, was directed against the Haansteede airdrome in the Netherlands, where a hangar was hit and aircraft on the ground were machine-gunned, one bursting into flames.

Bombs were reported dropped on "a concentration of shipping" at Cuxhaven, Germany, and on a convoy of ships off Den Helder, Holland.

The raids were said to have cost the British two planes.

Nazis Say Bombs Fell in Fields

BERLIN (AP)—The German high command said in a communique today:

"Bombs dropped by the enemy at night over Germany mostly hit open fields, causing damage to terrain. Enemy planes in only two cases attacked industrial plants. They did immaterial damage to a boilerhouse and loading platform. In raids on residential sections several persons were killed and injured. In western Germany a hospital marked by the red cross was attacked.

"The opponent's losses yesterday totaled nine planes. Three of our own planes are missing."

Nazis Make Longest Night Raid

Famous London Church Hit

LONDON (CP)—Light and heavy Axis aircraft scattered bombs over a wide area of Britain last night, ranging from the south coast to Scotland. London experienced its longest night alarm of the war.

During the raid one of the most famous churches in London was hit by a high explosive bomb.

(Censorship prevented identification of the building by name). Several hundred homeless persons usually take shelter in the church during raids, and it was crowded with women and children when the bomb exploded.

The pianist stopped abruptly, but then shouted quickly: "It's only one of our own shells."

While ambulances rushed to the spot with sirens screaming he started to play again, and the refugees went on singing.

Refugees Sleep After Bombing

A warden in the crypt of the bombed church said that after wards the occupants of the shelter "went to sleep as though nothing had happened."

"The absence of panic was really remarkable," he said. "The people sang away, although their throats were parched with dust from the explosion."

"A little later one of the clergy came into the crypt, said a prayer and cheered the occupants with a few quiet words."

A woman standing at a bus stop just outside the church was killed, but there were no casualties in the crypt itself. All the stained glass windows in one side of the church were blown in or damaged and the wall was pitted with bomb fragments.

Pews covered with dust and debris, but the church appeared not to have been seriously damaged, officials said. The bomb fell just outside the door leading to the crypt.

A Canadian soldier blown off his feet while crossing the road was taken into the crypt by other soldiers who had taken shelter there. He quickly recovered.

Few Casualties During Night

A joint communique of the Air Ministry and Ministry of Home Security today said:

"Shortly before dusk yesterday enemy aircraft dropped bombs in rural districts in Yorkshire and in the eastern counties. In Yorkshire little damage was done and no serious casualty has been reported. In the eastern counties, though most of the bombs fell in fields, four houses were destroyed and there was a small number of casualties.

"After dark the main enemy attack was on the London area. A block of flats was hit and damage was done to houses, shops and other buildings and a number of people were killed and injured."

"Bombs were also dropped in many districts in the home counties and in south and southeast England. Most of these did no harm, but in some places dwelling houses and other buildings were damaged. The number of casualties reported from all these areas is very small."

WORK ON SOUTHWEST

"Several bombs were dropped in one town in the southwest, but no serious damage is reported though a few people were killed or injured."

"In an attack on a Midland town very little damage was done and the casualties were very few."

"In southwest Scotland a hotel and some houses were damaged and a few people were killed or injured."

"According to reports so far received, bombs dropped elsewhere caused very little damage and few if any casualties."

An early morning check-up showed that while damage was comparatively light it was spread over more sections of England than for some time.

The raiders came singly and in groups of two and three, lighting their way under a hazy moon with flares and showers of fire bombs. The heavy bombers dropped slowly and methodically at a high altitude, while fighter-bombers, lying much lower, streaked across the sky in an effort to beat the heavy barrage raised around the capital.

Defect Italians Among Raiders

Londoners, who have become familiar with the sound of German airplane motors, said there was a new sound overhead during the night, apparently indicating Italian bombers participated in the attacks.

There were some lulls during the night and many Londoners left their shelters to go home to their own beds, continuing a fatalistic trend which has been in-

Easy To Be Friendly With Latin Americans

REDDING, CONN. (AP)—One of the great modern fallacies, according to Jascha Heifetz, the violinist, is the belief that there is some mysterious temperamental gulf between the United States and South America.

"It is plain silly to say that we can't understand our Latin American neighbors, or that they can't understand us," he stated. "The bases of friendship are much the same throughout the world, and we can be friends with South America any day we choose."

Heifetz recently completed a tour of South America in which he played in all but five of the smaller countries.

"I think it's a peculiarly insidious kind of propaganda, this emphasizing the alleged 'differences' between North and South America. Heaven knows there could be nothing further apart than the German mind and the Latin-American mind, yet we hear nothing about difficulties of understanding there."

Employees Get Raise

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter J. Black, publishing house president, said yesterday that as a result of President Roosevelt's reelection he would give a 10 per cent salary increase to each of his 50 employees.

"I'm sick and tired of the way business-men talk and act about Franklin Roosevelt when most of them have thrived under him just as I have," he said.

DIED AT NANAIMO NANAIMO — Miss Agnes Coverley, resident of Nanaimo for the past 30 years, passed away yesterday in Nanaimo hospital. Funeral services will be held this afternoon.

Big Fire Fought For 2 Hours

One cluster of fire bombs which fell with a stick of high explosive bombs started a fire that sent flames leaping so high they silhouetted the majestic dome of St. Paul's Cathedral.

German planes cruised overhead with the towering flames as a beacon until the fires were brought under control two hours later.

Several French soldiers and sailors were among the casualties when a club was hit in one London district, while in another district nine houses on one street were wrecked and 11 others damaged badly.

People sleeping in a shelter escaped when a block of office buildings above them was fired by incendiary bombs. The rear of the block was reduced to rubble and charred beams.

Eight people were rescued from the wreckage of houses along several streets in another region of the capital, where a stick of bombs fell during the first part of the night raid. Rescue workers continued to search the debris.

A bar was hit in one district, killing two and injuring many other customers.

Several families were trapped when a bomb exploded among three tenement houses in a working class area. The houses were wrecked and it was believed five persons—a mother, two sons, a daughter and a 15-year-old girl—were killed. Three other persons were believed buried in a basement.

In west Scotland a bomb struck a hotel, burying the occupants and a passerby and killing five persons. In London, showers of incendiary bombs started numerous fires, keeping fire-fighters on the jump.

Australia Urged To Bar Witnesses

MELBOURNE (AP)—The Western Australian and the Tasmanian governments have requested the Commonwealth government to declare the Jehovah's Witnesses religious sect an illegal organization.

Attorney-General W. H. Hughes said the government was watching the sect's activities closely, but action against it would not be taken at the present. He said the constitution guaranteed religious liberty, although it was difficult to decide whether the sect could be classified fairly as a religious denomination. When its members preached or practiced subversive activities they were subject to penalties, Mr. Hughes added.

(A few months ago Canada declared the sect to be an illegal organization, and prosecutions have taken place against the children of several of the sect's members for refusing to take part in patriotic school exercises).

One of the members of the sect arrested at Melbourne was fined $33. The magistrate said the sect regarded all other religions as racket or snare, adding that its members must not make disloyal utterances in the present crisis.

He said the fine was intended as a warning to others.

Dies After Route March

SASKATOON (CP)—Capt. Justin Angus McDonald of Prince Albert, 60-year-old surgeon, collapsed and died yesterday following a route march at Dunsburg military camp, south of Saskatoon. He was a past president of the Prince Albert District Medical Society.

Election Red Faces

Out Went Experts, Down Came Limb

NEW YORK (CP)—Now that moving day at the White House has been postponed for another four years it is possible to take a poll of the polls and prophets—those who claimed to have their fingers on the public pulse—who insisted ever so emphatically that it would be Wendell L. Willkie, and a pushover.

For instance there was the Dunn survey, which predicted that Alfred M. Landon would win the presidency of the United States by 33 states in 1936.

This year the Dunn survey—and the Republicans made capital of this prophecy—predicted confidently 29 states for Willkie and 351 electoral votes. The reverse by a wider margin is true.

There was David Lawrence, publisher of the United States News, who said Willkie by 278 and maybe 355 electoral votes.

An there was an enthusiastic gentleman named Emil Hurja, who perhaps with more wishful thinking than calculation, said it would be Willkie by 378 electoral votes.

The New York Daily News in an extensive poll of New York state predicted a photo finish—worked it out in fact to three decimal points, and fixed the Roosevelt vote of 50.068 per cent.

STRAW VOTES Fortune Magazine said it should be Roosevelt by 55.2 per cent of the nation's popular vote.

The Gallup poll was cautious. It allowed itself a percentage error. But the Institute of American opinion, to give the Gallup poll its full name, did say there were 21 sure states for Roosevelt, and estimated Willkie would have eight. Actually it looks as if the Republican candidates will have nine. PM, New York's evening newspaper, fixed Willkie's states at nine, and named at least seven of them correctly.

George U. Harvey, president of Queen's borough of New York City, said the other night that if Willkie were defeated "I am going to Canada, because if he isn't elected this will be the last presidential campaign we will ever have."

He added that concentration camps would blossom in the United States.

Indulgent readers wrote in at once offering to pay Mr. Harvey's fare to the Dominion, provided he guaranteed he would make it a one-way ticket.

Today Harvey has changed his mind. "If 130,000,000 people can stand it, so can I," he said, referring to the Democratic triumph.

Voters Eliminate Barton From Trio

NEW YORK — Here's what happened to the alliterative trio, Martin, Barton and Fish, the rhythm of whose names as used by Roosevelt in his Madison Square Garden speech became one of the comic relief features of the election campaign. The President charged the three Republicans had a big part in attempts to sabotage the U.S. defense program.

Martin—Joseph W., Jr.—was re-elected to Congress.

Barton—he is the Bruce Bar-

Still Free and United

MUCH WAS SAID AND WRITTEN during the recent election campaign in the United States which tried to reveal to the electors what the heads of the totalitarian countries would like them to do and what they would prefer them not to do. Nothing said or written, however, was intended to be interpreted too literally; the greater part of it did not exceed purely domestic political propaganda. But what the dictators were hoping against hope that the election campaign would produce were such fires of passion, such ill-feeling, such bitterness against either candidate as would tend to create lasting differences between the American people. That would have been the only election development that could have brought any real satisfaction to the heads of those states in which the lights of freedom have gone out.

In the contest which resulted in the endorsement of President Roosevelt and his administration there might have existed the seed of just such a division; bitterness played its part. Both sides indulged in it; when intense partisanship enters the front door logic often bolts through the attic. But this is a passing phase; democracy does not operate according to a standardized plan. Freedom of thought is not blueprinted. Liberty of speech is an elastic perquisite which may at times manifest itself in strange ways. It did so during the final stages of the battle between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Willkie—and why not? Both sides had secreted a good deal of party bile of which they had to get rid in the time-honored custom. Yet as soon as the votes had been counted, as soon as the Republicans learned that the majority of their compatriots had felt it desirable to re-elect the Democrats, even for a third term, the formality of burying the hatchet began. Today, for example, the former Democrat Governor Alfred E. Smith, in the campaign a last-ditch fighter for Willkie, exhorts: "Every American should line up solidly behind the President in the interest of the future welfare of our country." Former President Hoover puts it this way: "The transcendent duty now is the full co-operation of everybody in this vital purpose." He was speaking of national preparedness as the best guarantee of security.

All this quick change of domestic outlook, of course, is puzzling to the mentality of the Hitler and Mussolini of the world. It is foolish to suppose that the totalitarians see in the recent spirited application of the mechanics of democratic procedure a rebirth among the whole American people of their love for the type of government which has served them so well for the last 150 years. It is incomprehensible to the men of Berlin and Rome that within 48 hours of the bitter and most crucial political contest of modern times the immediate product is national unity perhaps more profound than at any time during the present century. Nor is this a product solely of the external threat which the political campaign served to emphasize. It is a new manifestation of majority will to evolve a better social order, one that will insure religious, economic and political freedom for all time. It is the counterpart of the processes unfolding unostentatiously in Great Britain. In other words, the forces now given a further term in the United States are the forces which eventually will prevail, the forces which will end dictatorship.

Just Beginning to Re-arm

AT HIS PRESS CONFERENCE AT Washington this morning, United States Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau told newspapermen he would ask Congress to increase the national debt limit to $60,000,000,000 or $65,000,000,000, to meet possible deficits up to June 30, 1942.

Like the public of other countries, our neighbors have grown thoroughly familiar with astronomical figures when financial affairs are under discussion. But it is less by this part of the treasury secretary's announcement that we are intrigued than by the thrice-repeated phrase: "We've just begun to re-arm." Mr. Morgenthau obviously desired to emphasize this part of his statement—as the dispatch suggests—but he evidently thought it unnecessary to go into a detailed explanation for its repetition.

While on the subject of our neighbor's rearmament, with its association with national finance and debt, it is to be noted the next battleship that will slide down the ways for the United States navy will cost approximately $75,000,000, to be followed by two others that will account for nearly $200,000,000 between them. The bill for the first one, the North Carolina, by the way, will be nearly 200 per cent greater than that of the West Virginia. But the latter was launched 20 years ago when a dollar was still a dollar—when taxpayers thought of billions to measure the distance to the moon.

But that phrase, "we've just begun to re-arm," coming so quickly into official circulation after the election of the United States had so emphatically endorsed the present administration—its internal as well as its external policies—is scarcely calculated to cheer either the German or Italian peoples as they prepare for an uncomfortable winter.

21-Class

THERE HAS BEEN ARGUMENT OVER the length of the training period for drafted men. There is no argument, however, over what has been accomplished in one month with the first group of recruits at the Gordon Head camp. The results made evident in this week's parade through the city and the drill display at the Armories have surprised military men, particularly those who have been inclined to pessimism with respect to the experiment. Credit is due to Col. T. B. Monk, camp commandant, and members of his permanent staff at Gordon Head for having done a good job. They have made a success of this testing of the training plan in operation. Lack of skill or judgment in organizing the camp and in handling the men might have discredited the plan in the eyes of the public. It might have had more serious results in the way of impaired confidence in our military organization. Actually, the results have been constructive as to morale, outside as well as inside the camps. The 21-year-olds are returning home with a good impression of the Canadian army; the training has benefited them physically. They go conscious that they are now part of our expanding defence organization and with an awakened interest in its activities that in the case of most of the young men will tend to be active, instead of merely passive. The best to be hoped for from the other camps across the country is that they have been conducted as intelligently as the Gordon Head camp and can show results equally as satisfactory.

Threatening the Swiss

WE ARE TOLD THAT ALL BUT TWO Swiss newspapers have been banned from Italy. Officials in Rome are angered because the leading journals in the alpine republic are finding a good deal of satisfaction in the gallant fight which comparatively tiny Greece is putting up against Mussolini's much-vaunted war machine. So the Italian radio announces that the territory and constitution of the Fascist state's northern neighbor cannot be guaranteed immunity in the new structure of Europe; but it is one thing for Il Duce's propaganda department to accuse the Swiss press of cringing its columns "full of lies," of publishing "artificial catastrophes which were completely false," and quite another to follow up its threats by the establishment of a new front.

Switzerland's precarious position, however, is one which must cause growing concern to the Swiss people and government. This small country, admired throughout the world for the sturdy independence it has so miraculously maintained through two wars which have engulfed all the major nations of Europe, is hemmed in on every side by Nazi-dominated countries—France on the west, Italy on the south, Austria on the north and east. She is cut off from all her normal intercourse with the rest of the world; again she has been compelled to close her tourist ledgers that, for many years, have showed the credit trading balance with which she has been enabled to pursue her peaceful and prosperous way. Of late, incidentally, Nazi propaganda has made much of the necessity to "find a new relationship to Germany," which is the quaint euphemism for the "get-out-of-the-way-by-peaceful-means" pressure so successfully applied at Munich. Swiss independence naturally offends the totalitarian potentates as they survey it in the midst of a collection of more powerful states already humbled and enslaved—for the time being. But Swiss resolution and devotion have not faltered. One is prompted to inquire, nevertheless, if the nation's economic stamina will sustain the people's spiritual courage. A world looks on with admiration and hopes.

Notes

It was Hitler's invasion, now it is his evasion of Britain.

The Greeks have a word for it and that word is "fight."

Many of those Nazi airmen who hammer London end up by getting nailed themselves.

Who are we to quarrel with the milliner if she says it is a hat? Her guess is as good as the next.

PRICE FIXING

From Winnipeg Free Press
There will be appreciation of the wisdom of the government in seeking to avoid a general policy of price fixing.

A statement of policy was made the other day as a result of difficulties which arose in the coal trade in Fort William. Hector McKinnon, chairman of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, said:
"If coal prices were fixed by the board for Fort William strong demand would no doubt be made to establish similar controls in other Canadian cities and with respect to a host of commodities other than coal. The difficulties of securing and maintaining information about the constantly changing costs of a multitude of products and services, the enormous increase in personnel which would be necessary to decide on prices and to police trade and industry and the volumes of regulations which would have to be applied. In any event, in the opinion of the board, the benefits that might accrue to the public generally from the adoption of such a policy of regimentation are highly questionable."

In Fort William, where a price combination in the coal trade was alleged, the procedure followed was to invite the Combines Investigation Act. Fred McGregor, the commissioner of this act, made an investigation and, as a result, competitive prices were restored. Thus, the government as an alternative to price fixing is going to rely upon the maintenance of competition and the chief means to this end is the Combines Investigation Act.

NEW SYSTEM

A BELIEVER of private business, a rich man himself, Mr. Roosevelt has no desire like some of his advisers to create a new economic system. He will seek to get business co-operation by orthodox means; by the stimulus of profits. But if he doesn't get it that way he will compel it either way. This nation is committed now to such huge public spending, such vast deficits, to so much government purchasing that the whole economic system from now on will be more dependent on the government, more entwined with government than ever before.

Mr. Willkie could not have prevented that, but he could have substituted a different governmental attitude towards business, a different emphasis, perhaps a stronger effort to balance the budget as the national income rises with the inevitable war boom.

BY NEARLY HALF

THE ELECTION was won by Roosevelt largely on these economic issues. Largely he was elected by the poor people who feel that he has done more for them than any President in history. They voted for him to hold their recent social gains and to gain still more in general. The more prosperous people voted for Mr. Willkie, not because they expected to repeal these gains, but because they don't know where Mr. Roosevelt's peaceful revolution is going to stop; because many of them sincerely believe that Mr. Roosevelt is destroying American capitalism and American democracy.

The vast majority for the President in the electoral college is likely to disguise the fact that Mr. Willkie polled a huge popular vote, apparently about 45 per cent of the total.

Almost half the nation has repudiated the President and with a depth of opposition of real hatred such as America has not witnessed in modern times, such as no one can appreciate if he has not been here throughout the election. The election leaves the President with a litter of separate problems, but one main problem encompasses all the others. His supreme task recognized by every American is to reunify his people after the deep schism of the last year and the bitter antagonism of the election.

GREAT ROLE

UNLESS HE CAN ACHIEVE that unity he can solve none of the other problems either in the field of foreign policies or of domestic policies. This bold incalculable man, half crusading genius, half wily politician, has broken all precedent, shattered the most sacred political tradition of his people, dared everything, denied all the rules and won.

Yet even after eight years of office it is only the beginning now. He enters the third term with the world in flames around him, with American democracy actually endangered from without for the first time. That third term will be the most important period in American history and in world history to date. What Mr. Roosevelt does during those four years in making war and later in making a world peace will dwarf everything in his past by comparison. On what he does during these four years in co-operation with our Empire hangs the chief hope of our western civilization. Today Mr. Roosevelt's great role in history is only started.

LONDON IN RETROSPECT

On this old street bluff Henry often strode, Replete with color and with mighty dreams, Elizabeth, in girlish pride, once rode To royal fame along this way, where teams Now London's traffic. Here the sea kings walked—

Bold Drake and Hawkins—ere they ploughed the grim Atlantic, seeking gold. There Shakespeare talked

Of his new play that would bring fame to him, Rough Cromwell hatched his plot against the kings

In this plain house. And in this quaint retreat Wise Johnson sat and talked of bookish things

To bards and artists. Wesley stirred this street To new-found visions of the true and good, And here young Shelley sang of brotherhood.

Of frowning castles, I have seen a score; In vast cathedrals I have stood in awe, A thousand works of art without a flaw Have overwhelmed me with their subtle lore. In faded rivers I have plunged the oar, From towering hills have seen a strange new world.

Weird tales have heard of kings abruptly hurled From ancient thrones, to die in royal gore. Where poets pondered I have bowed the knee; By statesmen's tombs have learned old England's power; And I have felt this very day and hour— In London, where the heart of empire beats, And I have turned—how oft!—with joy to see The bright-faced children on the English streets.

JAPAN'S STRENGTH

From Richmond Times-Dispatch

Economically weak, worn by the drawn-out war in China and out of reach of her allies, Japan is in no position to engage the United States successfully in war. So—though the Philippines are vulnerable and some trade measures could be undertaken—observers believe that Tokyo will acquiesce to demands to maintain the status quo in the Pacific. But the brassness of the dominant Japanese militarists constitutes a danger that may plunge the United States into an Asiatic naval conflict within a few months. In courting war, Japan would find her silk imports to this country halted and Japan counts on her silk sales to finance much of her foreign purchases.

TRAITOR ARCAD AND CO.

In May of 1936, I spent some time in a private conference at Ottawa concerning the international situation. What I heard there revealed a serious difference of opinion about the reality of the Fascist threat in the province of Quebec. I decided to make some inquiries on my own behalf. Readers may remember I wrote in June, 1938, about Adrien Arcand.

In a nutshell, the evidence then available to anybody who took the trouble to ferret things out a bit in Montreal and Quebec, was that Arcand was not a "grand farceur," not just a demagogic windbag but a professional Nazi agent working day after day on Canadian soil on behalf of the enemies of Canada and the British Commonwealth.

What I then wrote was only a part of the information I had. I learned at about the same time, from a source which seemed highly reliable to me, that the Quebec Nazis had imported (secretly and illegally) from the United States a supply of sub-machine guns, that those guns had been smuggled across the Niagara frontier on a certain night and delivered to a certain address in Montreal. This information was promptly passed on to the Minister of Justice, Mr. Lapointe, according to my informant. Obviously, it was the kind of story which no one could then prove. New York newspapermen who wrote along the same line were furiously rebuked by high dignitaries in Quebec. It will be remembered that young Mr. Arcand was never circumscribed in any way by any government. Indeed it was many months after the present war started before he was taken into custody and interned.

Now consider the following extract from the report of Dorothy Thompson concerning the actual findings of the Dies Committee, hitherto withheld from publication:

"It further reveals from letters on the stationery of the German embassy that Adrien Arcand, the Canadian Fascist leader, and his French language newspaper have been financed by Germany with Manfred Zapp, in New York, as the pay-off, and that the North German Lloyd office was a propaganda and espionage centre with the ticket clerk as the propaganda centre and the party cell member."

WHO RULES VICHY?

Our easy-going assumption that people like Arcand are just "half-cracked boys" is not justified by these findings nor what happened in Norway, Holland, Belgium, France. That is why it seems inconceivable to me that our government should still "recognize" the Vichy government of France, and accord diplomatic immunity to the French ministry at Ottawa and to French consuls throughout Canada. It is no doubt true that many of the officials are fine fellows, old friends of Canada. It is also true that the Vichy government has publicly promised its "sincere collaboration" to Hitler.

To permit agents of Vichy to carry on whatever open or secret work they might decide to do, especially in Quebec, is in my opinion the height of crass stupidity.

DIFFICULT, BUT NOT HOPELESS

From Winnipeg Free Press

It is likely that the British in 1940 have a far more difficult task before them in any attempt to control the sea than they had in 1914-18; and this not only renders their own line of communications harder to maintain, but it means as well that it is more difficult both to bring pressure to bear upon the Balkans and to give aid to the countries friendly to the British cause in the Near East. The refusal so far of Egypt to declare herself is one of the several proofs of this truth.

But the task, though difficult, is by no means hopeless. British sea power has certainly been able to achieve substantial results: Trade still continues with the Balkan countries, which means that it is still possible for British merchant shipping to move in the Mediterranean; and it is widely known that substantial military reinforcements have been brought during the later summer and early autumn to enhance the striking power of the British armies in Egypt and Palestine. How complete that demonstration of strength can be made, however, we do not yet know, although it is apparent that every day adds to it.

Nevertheless it is difficult to avoid the conclusion that, if the Axis cares to do it (and of its intention little doubt remains), the German and Italian armies could tomorrow or next day sweep over Greece; and it is hardly likely that the Bulgars, with Italians to their south and the Germans in Rumania to their north, would care to make a fight for their independence.

Good Advice for Constipation!

A doctor will tell you that the best thing to do in case of constipation is to find the cause. If you are constipated, don't be satisfied with temporary remedies. Find the cause of the ailment! It would be easy if your diet, like that of most people, is unbalanced—no doubt, it lacks "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean quantity, but the kind of food that does not completely assimilate and leaves a soft "mass" in the bowels that helps the bowel to move. If that is what is lacking, the solution is to eat Kellogg's All-Bran, crisp and tasty, for breakfast. It helps form the "bulk" and contains Vitamin B<sub>1</sub>, the natural intestinal tonic. Eat little All-Bran every day, drink lots of water and become "regular"! Made in London, Canada, by Kellogg. At all grocers.

Wheat Problem Concern to B.C.

British Columbia was enjoying a period of prosperity caused by the "pump-priming of war," but is doing nothing to meet the real problems of the times, Mayor Lyle Telford of Vancouver told the Legislature yesterday.

"The government hasn't got two ideas to rub together," he declared, adding that the province would be in a hopeless mess if peace were declared tomorrow and men in the services were demobilized.

In a 90-minute speech the Vancouver mayor, speaking from a pile of notes and clippings, covered a score of matters which he termed "very serious," with particular attention to Canada's wheat problem.

With a 300,000,000-bushel carry-over and a 560,000,000-bushel crop this year Canada had more than enough wheat to supply all world market needs and would not be able to sell it.

"We can't go on the way we are," he said, and went on to analyze the prices of pigs, bran, shorts, flour for export, flour for domestic consumption, and freight rates.

WANTS B.C. SELF-SUPPORTING

He urged a campaign to make B.C. as self-supporting as possible, and a continuous fight to get as much grain as possible flowing through western ports.

The Vancouver mayor crossed swords with Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, several times when he attacked marketing policies, declaring the marketing act was using the power of the state for organized monopoly and restriction of production.

Sectional benefits from the marketing laws were decreased by rising prices of the commodities controlled, he said.

When the mayor told Premier Pattullo his "political hole" for oil in the Peace River would be a "wash-out," and said even if the drillers struck oil they could never get it to the coast, the Premier told him he was talking nonsense.

He demanded a bigger share of provincial revenues for Vancouver, because it paid a huge proportion of the levies, told the government to give serious study to the Rowell-Sirois report and urged a policy requiring every voter to produce his registration card before casting his ballot.

He finally urged the Premier to call a conference of the best minds in the province to consider ways and means of economizing in provincial expenditures.

G. E. MACDONALD HEAD OF BAND

At the first annual meeting of the Victoria Boys' Band, held in the City Hall last night, George E. MacDonald was elected president for the year, with E. Bragg being chosen vice-president.

Other officers elected were: Lieut. Gen. Sir Percy Lake, honorary president; R. W. Mayhew, M.P., honorary vice-president; G. A. Dyson Sr., past president; Mrs. M. C. Mackie, recording secretary; and P. E. George, secretary-treasurer.

Reports, illustrating the progress of the band since its inception a year ago, were presented. The retiring president, Mr. Dyson, expressed pride in the musical ability of the band after such a short period of training. He also paid tribute to the untiring efforts of Bandmaster C. H. Rowles, and extended his thanks to the parents of the boys for their co-operation with the band.

P. E. George presented a report of the band's finances, praising the substantial efforts made by the ladies' committee, and mentioning that 75 per cent of the playing done by the band had been for charity.

The meeting recorded a vote of thanks for the work done by the retiring president, and for Victoria citizens, who had in any way helped the band.

Mrs. E. King reported that plans were afoot to form a women's auxiliary to the band, to be composed of mothers of the young musicians.

STATES CHINESE CERTAIN TO WIN

"Japan has not really conquered where she has invaded. There is no doubt whatever that China will win," Miss Maud French, treasurer of the Christian Literature Society of China in Shanghai, here visiting her sister, Mrs. A. D. Mann, 644 Linden Avenue, declared today.

While Japan held control over certain central points in the invaded territory, it was an uneasy control against which determined Chinese were fighting for the right to govern their own country, to live and to secure justice.

She foretold the emergence of a new China, administered by trained and educated men and women from Free China, where great progress was being made.

In the course of 12 years in the field, Miss French reported the development of a communal spirit, which was beating down the traditional fences of the family for a more united outlook. In that work the Christian Chinese, whose example in present emergencies was highly appreciated by the non-Christian, were showing a fine lead, she said.

Despite war conditions, Miss French added, the sale and distribution of Christian literature during the last 12 months had been the highest in the history of the work undertaken by the Christian Literature Society. That fact, she suggested, illustrated the increasing importance of Christianity in the country.

Bar Archdeacon As Candidate

MONTREAL (CP)—City hall circles say an article of the city charter would prevent the nomination of Archdeacon A. P. Gower-Rees, Anglican clergyman, should he agree to a plan to put his name forward as a mayoralty candidate in Montreal's December 9 civic election. Article 24 of the city charter rules that no person may become a candidate for the office of mayor or alderman if he is "in holy orders, or a minister or professor of any religious sect, or a judge or clerk of any court."

It was announced last week that a delegation, to be representative of French and English-speaking and Jewish communities, would ask the archdeacon, rector of St. George's Church, for permission to nominate him as a candidate.

Coldwell Chosen C.C.F. House Leader

OTTAWA (CP)—Request for more complete information on the government's war policies and what has been accomplished so far in the war effort will be made by the Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation during the present session of Parliament.

M. J. Coldwell, member for Rosetown-Biggar, Sask., was chosen at a caucus yesterday to be the party's house leader during this session, as he was last session because of the illness of J. S. Woodsworth, veteran party lead. He said later his colleagues believed the government should give more information to Parliament and the people. His group would not be satisfied with a government statement that replies to its questions would not be in the public interest.

"If it is impossible for the prime minister to give us answers in public, we will press for a private sitting of the House," Mr. Coldwell said.

There was no question of leadership at the Conservative caucus yesterday. Hon. R. B. Hanson, chosen house leader at the beginning of the session last spring, will continue in that capacity.

GIRL SPY, 10 YEARS

LONDON (CP)—Anna Wolkoff, charged with her boy friend, Tyler Kent, discharged employee of the United States embassy, with violating the Official Secrets Act in a spy plot, was convicted and sentenced today to 10 years imprisonment.

Kent, previously convicted, was sentenced to seven years. Miss Wolkoff, 37, is the daughter of a former Russian naval attaché to London. Kent was convicted last week, but his sentence was postponed until after the trial of Miss Wolkoff.

With the Forces

Radio Mechanics Need of R.C.A.F.

OTTAWA (CP)—The Royal Canadian Air Force last night repeated a recent call issued for 1,000 radio mechanics required for overseas service on the ground at regular R.C.A.F. rates of pay.

An air force statement said the renewed call was made at the request of the United Kingdom.

Applicants accepted would be sent overseas within about 30 days of enlistment. Age limit had been raised from 45 to 50, "creating an opportunity for veterans who served overseas in the last war." Applicants must be physically fit, but perfect eyesight was not a requisite.

Training will be completed overseas, the statement said.

"Applicants are requested to apply to the nearest R.C.A.F. recruiting centre," the statement added. "Those living at a distance from a recruiting centre are advised to write or telegraph to the recruiting centre for an appointment or for further information."

Knowledge of the Morse code was not necessary. Volunteers should have a good practical knowledge of modern superheterodyne receivers and of servicing and fault-finding. They should preferably have had some experience of short-wave receivers and should have mastered at least the elementary basic principles of radio transmission and reception.

LEESON IN ENGLAND

Capt. R. A. Leeson of Vancouver is back doing police work with the Canadian forces "Somewhere in England" after an adventurous year with the British army.

A former officer of the British Columbia Provincial Police, and a member of the Canadian Pacific Railway police force until war broke out, he is now deputy assistant provost marshal in the corps commanded by Lieut. Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton.

Capt. Leeson, who lived in Vancouver since 1929, still is attached to the British army, but it is probable he will take a post shortly in the first Canadian Provost Corps.

He went to England a year ago last September and joined up as a second lieutenant, took a staff course and last January went to France with the British Expeditionary Force as D.A.P.M. of the Havre sub-area. With 150 British military police he had jurisdiction over one of the largest police districts in France. When the Germans broke through the Sedan in May, Capt. Leeson and his men strove desperately for days to keep the roads cleared for allied military vehicles. The refugee problem became almost impossible. At one ferry over the Somme River 6,000 abandoned vehicles blocked transportation, and German planes bombed and strafed roads crowded with fleeing civilians.

"WHOOPEE"

Finally most of the British forces in Havre were forced to evacuate by sea, but Capt. Leeson and 16 of his men remained for an additional day with some other British units in face of heavy enemy fire. There was one touch of humor for the M.P.'s in the grim Havre operation. One important written order contained the code word "Whoopie."

"I gave it to them," laughed the Vancouver officer, "for it's a good Canadian word."

The Royal Navy took them from Havre and later landed the captain and his handful of men at Cherbourg, where there still were British soldiers. From Cherbourg the military police unit managed to reach Rennes by freight train, where they stayed three days. Then they headed for Brest and were evacuated from there to England in the wake of Canadian soldiers who had been to France and come out through that French port.

FRASE FOR ENGINEERS

A bouquet was handed to a battalion of Royal Canadian Engineers serving overseas, with special mention of a former Victorian for skill in executing a repair job to keep Britain's vital aircraft industry running in high gear.

The Victoria man is Capt. Douglas W. Cunningham, formerly stationed at Work Point, son of Col. D. G. L. Cunningham, M.C. V.D., general staff officer of Military District 1, Calgary. His wife is the former Ivy Brown of Victoria, daughter of Herbert A. Brown, 2700 Burdick Street. The author of the compliment is no less than Lord Beaverbrook, chief of Britain's aircraft production.

In a telegram to Lieut. Col. F. R. Henshaw, M.C., officer commanding the battalion, Lord

Beaverbrook said:

"Will you please convey to Major Fleman (Major J. K. H. Fleman, formerly of national headquarters in Ottawa), Captain Cunningham, and the officers and men of the First Canadian Pioneer Battalion, who worked with such skill and devotion to restore the roof of the air-plane factory, this expression of the deep gratitude we feel."

"The need to repair the fabric of this vital aircraft plant was of such an urgency that the swift accomplishment of the task is a real service of the Empire in the hour of peril. These soldiers of the Dominion have, by their energy, increased our power to maintain production and resist the enemy's air offensive. They have played a splendid part. (Signed) Lord Beaverbrook."

NEW YORK (CP)—Wartime secrecy cloaked today the fate of a British convoy reported to have been attacked in mid-Atlantic by a German raider.

Naval sources in London were silent and no word came from Berlin, usually vociferous in claiming to have landed blows in the war at sea.

First word of the reported attack came Monday afternoon when the 16,698-ton liner Rangitiki and the 4,952-ton freighter Cornish City wireless they were "being gunned" by an enemy ship of the Graf Spee type—10,000 tons, with six 11-inch guns. Later, the wireless station at Portis Head, England, reported a convoy still being leisurely attacked by a raider "at approximately the same position."

Silence from the Admiralty possibly meant British cruisers were attempting to run down the raider, much as the Royal Navy accounted for the pocket battleship Admiral Graf Spee off Uruguay last December. Germany has two pocket battleships remaining, the Luetzow (formerly the Deutschland) and the Admiral Scheer.

The Rome radio contributed to the mystery by claiming in a broadcast, heard here by the National Broadcasting Company: "The Cunard liner Carpathia has been sunk." The Carpathia, which participated in the rescue of survivors of the Titanic disaster, was sunk during the first Great War and no ship of the same name is known to exist.

Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., also complained of the inertia of the present session, and the fact that the war had not yet been mentioned, although the subject was of paramount importance. He thought the government should help to arouse a greater war-consciousness among the people, for "if we lose the war, everything we have at the present moment will be utterly worthless." Russell Walker, provincial organizer for the Conservative Party, also spoke briefly.

Mrs. Mary Adam, president, introduced the speakers, and Mrs. S. R. Bowden expressed the thanks of the audience. Mrs. Maitland, Mrs. Anscomb and Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Hunter were also welcomed to the gathering, refreshments being served following the addresses.

The evening gowns of satin and velvet, the furs, the lavish jewels which brightened the austere Senate chamber in peacetime will be replaced by simple afternoon clothes.

In the Governor-General's box in the Senate chamber with Lady Byng will be Princess Juliana of the Netherlands, a refugee from the war zone who now is living here.

Princess Alice, wife of the Earl of Athlone, accompanies her husband to the throne at today's opening of Parliament. Lady Byng of Vimy will be a member of the vice-regal party.

As wife of a former Governor-General, Lady Byng mounted to the same chair when she attended the opening and prorogation of Parliamentary sessions between 1921 and 1926.

Not since July 1, 1967, when Viscount Monck took office as first Governor-General of the new Dominion has this situation been duplicated, according to available Parliamentary records.

Princess Alice is the third princess to live in Canada as wife of a Governor-General. Her predecessors were Princess Louise, wife of the Marquess of Lorne, and Princess Louise Margaret, wife of the Duke of Connaught.

In contrast, Princess Alice's first attendance in the Senate chamber on opening day will be in an atmosphere of subdued dignity imposed by the tragedy of war.

Conservative Women Hear Maitland

Criticism of the provincial government's apparent lack of interest in after-war problems and in the Rowell report, as evidenced from their omission from the Speech from the Throne, was voiced by R. L. Maitland, K.C., Conservative leader, and other speakers in addresses before the Women's Conservative Club last evening.

Mr. Maitland recalled that as long ago as August, 1939, he had looked for signs from both Dominion and provincial governments that there was something bigger than party politics; something bigger than patronage and power, in fine, that this was not a Liberal war to be carried on by the Liberal Party, but something for every individual citizen in the state to carry on. "Yet here we are at the present session. It is the same government, the same evasions, the same lack of responsibility," he charged.

While admitting that Canada had wonderful social legislation, the speaker maintained that it was no good unless implemented by government action and foresight. He deplored the backward trend of agriculture in the province, declaring that while the farmers were looking for a market for their products, $13,000,000 worth of pork, beef, honey and other produce had been purchased elsewhere.

In conclusion, he appealed to the women to beautify themselves and strengthen the hands of the Conservative Party, as he was confident that the party would win at the next provincial election.

Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., also complained of the inertia of the present session, and the fact that the war had not yet been mentioned, although the subject was of paramount importance. He thought the government should help to arouse a greater war-consciousness among the people, for "if we lose the war, everything we have at the present moment will be utterly worthless." Free French Thank Society for Gift

A letter of thanks from the committee of Gen. de Gaulle, leader of the Army of Free France, for a subscription sent by L'Alliance Francaise, was read at the opening meeting of the society's season yesterday afternoon. The fund was started by the garden party held last August at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Aldous, Willow Cove.

Mme. Renee Archibald, the president, was in the chair, and Mme. E. Sanderson-Mongin outlined the program for the winter. This will be devoted to the study of the history of French literature from the 10th to the 15th centuries, inclusive. The society will continue its war charity activities also, including the knitting of woolen comforts for men in the three services. Mrs. Chas. W. Baker is convener of this work, and yesterday distributed a quantity of wool.

The members stood in tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. Hamilton Smith, for many years a valued member, and latterly treasurer. A material memorial to her is to take the form of a subscription in her name to the Queen Alexandra Solarium, in which she was much interested.

Mrs. T. B. Inglis was appointed honorary secretary, and Mrs. A. Laundry recording secretary. The president reported that the society's bursary for last year was presented at the prize distribution exercises held at the High School a fortnight ago.

Herbert Anscomb, M.P.P., also complained of the inertia of the present session, and the fact that the war had not yet been mentioned, although the subject was of paramount importance. He thought the government should help to arouse a greater war-consciousness among the people, for "if we lose the war, everything we have at the present moment will be utterly worthless." Russell Walker, provincial organizer for the Conservative Party, also spoke briefly.

Mrs. Mary Adam, president, introduced the speakers, and Mrs. S. R. Bowden expressed the thanks of the audience. Mrs. Maitland, Mrs. Anscomb and Dr. and Mrs. J. D. Hunter were also welcomed to the gathering, refreshments being served following the addresses.

Candidate for Free Beauty Aids Lost

WASHINGTON (AP)—All five women members of the House of Representatives who were candidates for re-election—two Democrats and three Republicans—were returned to their seats Tuesday. They are: Mrs. Mary T. Norton (Dem.-N.J.); Mrs. Caroline O'Day (Dem.-N.Y.); Mrs. Edith Nourse Rogers (Rep.-Mass.); Mrs. Frances Bolton (Rep.-Ohio) and Miss Jessie Sumner (Rep.-Ill.).

Later counting added the name of Miss Jeannette Rankin, Montana Republican and first woman ever to serve in Congress, to the list of those elected to the House.

Mrs. Margaret Smith (Rep.-Me.) was re-elected previously to a second term and Hattie W. Caraway (Dem.-Ark.) is a carryover senator.

Miss Rankin first served in the House 22 years ago. She voted against the United States' entrance into the first Great War.

A total of 30 women—campaigning under various banners, Democratic, Republican, Prohibitionist, Communist, Socialist and platform of "free beauty treatments"—sought a place in the coming session.

Two women—Mrs. Mary Ellen Dooner of New Jersey and Mrs. Alice Burke of Virginia—ran for the Senate on the Communist ticket and were defeated.

The fate of Mrs. Frances Somers, who wants shampoo and manicures to be free, was not known.

Their Majesties Visit Union Jack Club

King George and Queen Elizabeth are pictured chatting with a soldier in a barber's chair, as they visited the Union Jack Club in London recently. The King and Queen are constantly seen amid the areas which have been demolished by Hitler's Luftwaffe, spreading good cheer and advice, and making certain that their people are not downhearted.

Future Torpedo Officers of the R.C.N.

Torpedo officers in the Royal Canadian Navy are here shown receiving a lecture on tubes in the naval training barracks on the East Coast.

Ghosts of War

Not men from Mars, but asbestos-clad "Angels of Mercy." These members of a British Fleet Air Arm rescue squad are pictured wearing new uniforms especially designed for sea rescues of airmen trapped in burning planes and for combating fire on aircraft carriers. Scene is "in England."

SHIP WITHOUT A COUNTRY:—Slightly bewildered is the crew of the French destroyer Jean D'Arc which sought shelter in Papeete, Tahiti, after France succumbed to the Nazi invasion. The ship's still there and crew members, who consider themselves loyal Frenchmen, find themselves, they opine, "with no country to fight for."

NEW LONG-RANGE BOMBER — Consolidated Aircraft's B-24 bomber, marked with the insignia of the R.A.F., was given its initial test flights over San Diego, Cal. This new, long-range bomber, the first of a fleet of seven destined for Britain, is powered with four 1,200-horsepower engines and has a wing span of 110 feet. It is capable of carrying a load of four tons of bombs, along with a crew of nine, and has a cruising radius of 3,000 miles.

TELLS OF RAIDS ON CANADIANS—Sergt. Cyril Forrest is home again in London, Ont., with stories of almost daily bombing by Nazi raiders of the Canadian camp in which he was stationed in England. "We spent so much time in ditches we began to look like ground-hogs," he said. He is shown with his wife and two children. Until he came back he had never seen Baby Jean, born 10 weeks ago.

BAGS THREE NAZIS—Flying Officer Keith (Sheets) Ogilvie of Ottawa has good reason to grin. The daring young airman shot down three enemy aircraft during recent raids over London.

MCNAB GOES TO R.A.F.—Squadron Leader Ernest McNab of Regina (right), leader of the R.C.A.F. fighter squadron in Britain, is to be transferred to the R.A.F. and will shortly be placed in command of an R.A.F. station. He has been promoted to rank of acting wing commander. The exact nature of his duties has not yet been defined. He will be succeeded as O.C. of the R.C.A.F. fighter squadron by his second in command, Acting Squadron Leader Gordon R. McGregor of Montreal (left), who has been promoted from flight lieutenant. The R.C.A.F. squadron under McNab has brought down 75 German planes, according to Air Ministry count.

Bombers for Norwegians in Canada

The last word in swift and powerful attack bombers, this is one of the Douglas SA-3 ships which reached Toronto last week for Royal Norwegian Army air force fliers training there. Thirty-six of the planes, originally ordered by the Norwegian government, are to be delivered. The bomber has a 1,200-horsepower Wright Cyclone engine and a top speed in excess of 265 miles an hour. It carries a substantial bomb load and is armed with seven machine-guns.

QUEEN'S SHRAPNEL AIDS BALL—A bit of shrapnel from one of the bombs which hit Buckingham Palace is the souvenir displayed by Mrs. Hugh Bullock (right), vice-chairman of Bundles for Britain, Inc. The piece of steel was sent by the Queen to be displayed at a ball in New York City. Mrs. Wales Latham, chairman of Bundles for Britain (left), holds a cigarette case also sent by the Queen. Proceeds of the ball are used to provide aid for British bomb sufferers.

RESCUE IN SIGHT—These men, sailors of a British freighter sunk by a U-boat, were adrift four days before they were finally sighted by a British Sunderland flying boat, and rescue was sent to them. One of their companions in the small boat snapped this picture just after the Sunderland flying boat had been sighted.

SEEN AFTER 17 YEARS—When T. F. Johnson lost his sight 17 years ago the Vancouver magistrate was told he could never see again. Recently he was persuaded to undergo an eye operation which restored his normal vision. "One of my greatest shocks was to see myself again," he said. "When I looked in the mirror I did not know the man who was reflected."

Four Straight

Dominoes Are Easy Winners

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

WITH THE revived Stanford Indians having marked up six straight victories in Pacific Coast football and apparently headed for the Pasadena Rose Bowl on New Year's Day, providing they can get over the Washington Huskies Saturday, many claim Coach Clark Shaughnessy is a miracle man, a magician or something. The answer to the question, according to reports from the boys at Stanford, is good old-fashioned hard work and intelligent work.

The Indians are no longer the laughing boys of Coach Tiny Thornhill's easy going years, when practices before the most important games were interrupted by autograph hounds.

Shaughnessy is a hard taskmaster. He insists that the lads arrive at the practice field promptly. There is no foolishness, yet the players are having a grand time. It's great to be with a winner, but the Indians were having a lot of fun even before they won a game.

Stanford has been out-maneuvered by every team it has met and will continue to meet, squads that have more manpower.

Santa Clara uses the system of substitution. The Cards tackled the Broncos on a blistering hot day. Eleven new Broncos came in at the end of the first period, but the Indians, who should have been tired, marched right through their fresh opponents... 42 yards straight to the goal line.

They were... and are in condition.

Shaughnessy is employing the "T" formation, which is many years old, but the amount of stuff he develops off the "T" is almost unbelievable.

Stanford has power, speed, thrust on quick openers and a potent passing game. It employs flankers, men in motion and spread formations.

Much has been said about its offense, and its defense has been great, too.

Stanford men are happy that Chicago switched to six-man football, and made it possible for their alma mater to bring Clark Shaughnessy to Palo Alto.

With Phil Rizzuto at short stop, the New York Yankees, with a reconstructed pitching staff, will win the 1941 American League pennant by 20 games.

This is the prediction of Eddie Froelich, trainer of the Chicago Black Hawks hockey team who serves in the same capacity with the Kansas City Blues, for whom little Rizzuto has starred throughout two seasons. Froelich formerly looked after the Brooklyn Dodgers, has been closely associated with the Yankees... is able to recognize a ball player when he sees one.

Froelich isn't alone in his opinion of the 21-year-old Rizzuto. Practically every baseball man who has watched the Brooklyn youngster agrees that he will be more spectacular in the field than he was in the batting line.

At his own expense Mike Jacobs, czar of boxing, is having built a number of rings which will be presented to the various United States military camps where the draftees will be in training.

They are constructed out of the pick of some of the available lumber from buildings now being dismantled at the New York World's Fair.

Promoter Jacobs plans to take boxing teams, headed by stars, from camp to camp for exhibitions.

Coast Hockey

Lions, Olympics Win

All four clubs in the Coast Hockey League saw action last night, and when the smoke cleared away the league-leading Portland Buckaroos had been handed their first defeat and the title holding Vancouver Lions had won their first victory.

The Lions, playing their second game of the season, took a 2 to 1 overtime game at Spokane, and the Seattle Olympics, making their debut into this season's play, smacked down the rampaging Buckaroos, previously undefeated in games with the Lions and the Spokane Bombers, by a 4 to 2 margin.

Vancouver's victory came on a high shot by Tip O'Neill that found the Spokane net and broke a 1 to 1 deadlock. O'Neill's goal came in the overtime period, when he and Jack Riley broke up a Bombers' rush in the first three minutes of play. Spokane, pressing hard, sent the puck down to the Vancouver end in a welter of men, and out of the scramble came Riley, who passed to O'Neill. The Vancouver veteran took the pass and drove it over the arm of the Bombers' goalie for the winning score.

ROOKIE GOALIE STARS

At Seattle, the Portland Buckaroos ran into trouble against the Olympics, opening the current season under new management.

Feature of the Seattle victory was the surprising defensive work of Hal Webb, late of the Seattle City League, who operates a skate shop in Tacoma. Yanked away from his shop to tend goal for the Olympics because of the inability of their new goalie, Paul Gauthier, to reach here this week, Webb performed sensationally.

Hockey Team Works Sunday

Second practice of local hockey players seeking to gain berths on the Victoria team in the proposed Vancouver Island League will be held at Nanaimo on Sunday.

Ivan Temple announced today the boys will work out from 5 until 7, and the players are asked to meet at Harris' sporting goods store, Fort Street, at 1:30.

Players who looked good in the opening workout included Lew Lewis, formerly of Calgary; C. Duke, who played intermediate hockey at Humboldt, Ont.; Usher of Regina, who received an invitation to attend the amateur hockey school at Winnipeg; T. Range, 220-pound centre, and Curry, a junior goalkeeper from Winnipeg.

The following players are asked to meet Sunday for the trip to Nanaimo: Kelpin, Curry, Price, Lewis, Cullin, Duke, Boag, Scott, Patrick, Anderson, Limer, Range, Ritchie, Skellern, Petticrew, Usher, McGill, Morgan and Maitland.

Clash With Revamped Americans

The burdens of National Hockey League leadership will rest a little heavier on Paul Thompson than on the other team bosses this season, for Paul was the manager of the year—last year—and the performance of his Chicago Black Hawks through the coming months will be the seal on that judgment.

The soft-spoken Thompson takes his new edition of Chicago Black Hawks into action tonight in their opening home game—the only game on the schedule.

For their opposition, the Hawks have drawn Red Dutton's revamped New York Americans, bursting with youth and not the slightest bit downcast from their opening 4 to 2 loss to Detroit Red Wings.

Thompson took the best veterans from the collection Bill Stewart left him in the middle of the 1938-39 season and blended them with a half-dozen rookies to jump from last to fourth place last March.

He has kept the team practically intact, adding just a little more youth to the forward lines. He believes he has "the most evenly-balanced outfit in Chicago history," and thinks the Hawks are a lead pipe cinch to do as well if not better than fourth place again.

There is only one game Saturday night as well, Detroit visiting Toronto. Maple Leafs, while

Railwaymen Ask Bargaining Rule

A new definition of collective bargaining rights in British Columbia's labor laws was asked of the provincial government today by a delegation representing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, Order of Railway Conductors, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, Order of Railroad Telegraphers and International Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees.

They would give the bargaining rights to a trade union representing the majority choice of employees eligible for membership in the union and force employers to recognize the union.

This was one plank in an 18-point legislative program presented to the cabinet by the delegation which included H. Elliott, J. Nicol, James Burnstall, E. Pugsley, J. Hammond and J. S. Dunlop.

Ten changes in the Workmen's Compensation Act were asked, chiefly to increase benefits. Among them was a request for compensation for such disabilities resulting from smoke poison, steamleaks, frostbites, hernia, deafness and defective eyesight brought about during employment.

The railwaymen favored the Rowell commission plan of giving the federal government complete jurisdiction in the income tax field.

On the question of immigration they urged a policy that would ensure reasonable qualifications of language and citizenship for any persons admitted to the country. Regret was expressed that health insurance had not been put into effect.

Other points asked by the delegation included price control of commodities necessary for living adoption of the proportional representation system in elections, increase to $30 in the old age pension with reduction of the pension age to 65, abolition of appeals to the Privy Council, public works to provide jobs for the unemployed, free milk for undernourished school pupils and rational development of natural resources.

Spots $2.50 fines for parking infractions were collected in City Police Court today.

Chief of Staff Here Tours Fortresses In Driving Rain

While rain drove down and a whistling wind put white caps on the nearby sea, Major-Gen. H. D. G. Crerar, chief of Canada's general staff, this morning tramped through military camps and fortresses in the Victoria area.

MAJOR-GEN. H. D. G. CRRERAR

Accompanied by Major-Gen. R. O. Alexander, chief of the newly-created Pacific command and temporary D.O.C. at Work Point, Gen. Crerar started his rounds an hour after coming off the night steamer from Vancouver.

"Things are going very well—everything out here is at a high pitch of efficiency," Gen. Crerar said as he arrived at the Work Point officers' mess for a hurried luncheon before continuing his first tour of inspection.

He would not amplify his statement in Vancouver yesterday that part of the 4th Division was already stationed on the Pacific coast.

"It would not be wise to mention numbers or tell any details," he said.

Nor would he say whether N.P.A.M. units would be called into the permanent force.

"There are always some men from these units, joining the regular arm," was all he would say.

Tomorrow Gen. Crerar will visit the new military camp at Nanaimo, and will then take a plane for Ottawa.

Major-Gen. Crerar, born in Hamilton in 1882, has had a distinguished career in the Canadian army. Four years before the 1914-18 war started he was a lieutenant in the 4th Field Battery. In 1914 he was made a captain and went overseas. He remained with the regular army throughout the years of peace, and when war started, 14 months ago, was commandant of Royal Military College at Kingston. He went overseas a year ago as liaison officer between the Canadian army in England and Canadian headquarters in London.

CAMERA CLUB NAMES OFFICERS

Unanimous selection of the officers and executive of 1940 on the slate for 1941 was made at a meeting of the British Columbia Civil Service Camera Club Wednesday evening in the Burdette Street clubrooms.

The following were re-elected by acclamation: President, George J. Alexander; vice-president, H. C. Whittaker; secretary-treasurer, R. L. Colby; executive members, Miss Mary Morry and W. A. MacDonald.

George Armstrong, program chairman, arranged a projection display of 35mm kodachrome stills from the selections of Mr. Alexander and Corporal J. A. Young of the B.C. Police. Interesting and colorful view of north central British Columbia and the East Kootenays were shown during the program.

The monthly print contest brought out a very interesting collection of 11 photographs by club members, the subject "Trees."

Coffee and doughnuts was served by the ladies of the club.

The next meeting of the club will be held Wednesday, November 20, and it will be the annual meeting calling for installation of officers and appointment of committees. Contest prints will be accepted, subject, "Autumn Scene."

Boisterous Weather Slows Up Drive

Chest-Red Cross Fund Over Halfway Mark

Greater Victoria went over the half-way mark yesterday in its $100,000 annual campaign for the Community Chest and the Red Cross.

House-to-house collectors were considerably hampered by driving rain and gale-force wind as they started their rounds this morning and several were forced to give up when the weather became too stormy. A slight setback was expected as a result, but campaign officials were confident this would be made up before the end of the week.

Last night a total of $54,512 had been collected to date, compared with $53,492 for the same period in the 1939 campaign. Yesterday's collections amounted to $8,593, the largest donation, for $1,000, being received from lady Barnard.

FRAGMENTS PAY VISIT TO SIDNEY

Britannia Fragments, concert party of the Britannia Branch of the Canadian Legion, entertained a large audience on Wednesday evening at Sidney for the benefit of the Poppy Fund. The show was sponsored by the North Saanich Branch of the Canadian Legion, and was a decided success. The troupe, under the leadership of Alf Adams, well-known Victoria artist, produced an entirely new show, which will be used for the entertainment of the troops stationed at the various forts around Victoria.

One of the outstanding numbers of the evening was a novelty scene entitled "Rose of No Man's Land." This scene was arranged and directed by Alf Adams, assisted by W. Farmer, a member of the troupe, who painted and designed the scenery. Mrs. E. Barker, who took the part of the Red Cross nurse, excelled herself in singing "Flanders Fields," while D. R. Park gave a splendid interpretation of the song, "Rose of No Man's Land." The set depicted a scene in France with the white cross and poppy's of Flanders fields in the background, with a lone soldier paying his homage to the Red Cross nurse. Judging from the applause when the artists finished their number with a duet of the chorus of the theme song, there was no doubt that this will be an outstanding number in the new show.

The balance of the program was as follows: J. Matheson, song; Ethel Barker, song; A. Adams, W. Farmer, J. Matheson, comedy trio; Dorothy Finn, song and dance; A. Adams, comedy song; Eva Milne, tap dance; D. R. Park and chorus, "Lords of the Air"; May Shrimpton, tap dance; Jack Holyoak, violin solo; Ethel Barker, song; Alf Adams, comedy number; Eva Milne and D. R. Park, song and dance; Geo. Todd, piano solo; W. Farmer, illustrated song; Dorothy Finn, song and dance; J. Matheson, Scotch comedy numbers; Eva Milne, toe-tap dance; Geo. Todd accompanied at the piano in his usual efficient manner, while P. Shrimpton acted as stage manager and W. Pynn as technician.

FIREMEN RESCUE BABY FROM SMOKE

When a Denison Street mother went out to get the dog at the front door shortly before 8 this morning, her pet dog made a break for the outdoors. She went to bring the dog back when her calls went unheeded. The door, equipped with a Yale lock, was slammed shut by a strong gust of wind, locking her out.

The mother had left her three-year-old baby in the kitchen and had also bread in the live toaster. Burning toast began to fill the kitchen with smoke, and the worried mother heard the cries of her child as she tried to figure a way to get in.

Finally she rushed to a neighbor's, and put in a call to the Oak Bay fire department. When the firefighters arrived they quickly pried loose a side window and rescued the child from the smoky kitchen.

B.C. to Co-operate On Rowell Report

British Columbia will co-operate to the fullest extent with the federal government and other provincial governments in dealing with the Rowell-Sirois report, but will seek to protect the well-being of the province in the process, Premier Pattullo said in a statement this afternoon in the Legislature.

"I look upon the report of the Rowell-Sirois Commission as of most valuable character," said Mr. Pattullo, "but this government is not prepared to accept the recommendations of this report in toto as suitably applicable to British Columbia. I do not agree with all its conclusions and the very bases upon which those conclusions were arrived at by the commission, have in this already short space of time very considerably altered, and have changed the picture."

In a country as far flung as Canada, it is not possible that a single measure would meet the circumstances of each individual province.

"I know that the people of this province are prepared to make any necessary sacrifice in winning this war and that that object is beyond all else, but this government will not concur in enactments of permanent character which may, and in considerable probability, will be inapplicable to conditions which may arise after and out of the war. This government proposes to co-operate to the full with the federal government and other provincial authorities to reach common ground, but in so doing we must not sacrifice the well-being of British Columbia."

(See page 18 for Ottawa dispatch on Prime Minister King's statement on Rowell-Sirois report.)

GREEKS TO AID COUNTRYMEN

With a view to forming a permanent Hellenic organization to aid war victims and fight Nazism and Fascism with propaganda and education, citizens of Greek extraction met yesterday afternoon in the council chamber of the city. Dr. A. Apostoli was in the chair.

Mayor McGavin extended a welcome, commended them for their enthusiasm shown by such a small group in an effort to help their countrymen. He wished them every success in their undertaking.

An executive committee was nominated as follows: Miss Lulu Metro, recording secretary; Miss Mary Alexis, financial secretary; Stylianos Moraitis, director of publicity, and George Karas, George Arsenos, Peter Spanos and Nicholas Lerick. A ladies' auxiliary will be formed.

Mr. Moraitis and Dr. Apostoli made a few remarks on the causes of war and how they could combat Fascism.

Lambrick Urges Tax Limitation

Reeve A. G. Lambrick of Saanich today carried his fight to limit taxation on land to 25 mills until improvements are taxed 50 per cent of the assessed value to the municipal committee of the Legislature where he was opposed by Councillor L. H. Passmore.

Reeve Lambrick said the steady growth of the inner wards of Saanich is increasing the problem of taxation on the farm areas.

He admitted he was fighting for a minority but said a matter of principle was involved. The inner wards had the majority vote and as they were steadily increasing in population it was becoming impossible for the minority to get protection.

"If nothing is done I think there will probably be another move for secession of the rural wards," he said.

The reeve pointed out that raising of the improvement tax level would make the tax charge in urban wards more comparable to that in the city and would halt the trend of people going just out of town to get light taxation.

Herbert Anascomb, Conservative, Victoria, pointed out Saanich already had the optional powers to tax 50 per cent of improvements if it wanted but Reeve Lambrick said this was not of value since a majority of the council could not be secured for it.

Councillor Passmore said people of the urban wards objected to the increased improvement tax because they were not provided with customary civic services such as garbage collection, sewerage, street lights and good roads.

"We know when we get those things we'll have to pay for them," he said. "But we don't see why we should pay before we do."

"This is a democracy and the majority still rules, even if it is hopelessly wrong," he said.

The committee took the question under consideration. Alderman George C. Miller, president of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, said the union favored the principle but had not endorsed it by resolution because some municipalities would not like to be included.

A delegation of the building trades council of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada asked the committee for a clause in the Municipal Act forcing contractors on city projects to pay fair wage scales. Jack Ross, chairman of the B.C. executive, was spokesman.

Robert McRae, chairman of the board of commissioners of Mission City, headed a delegation from that town asking for a clause in the Water Act which would force companies holding private water systems to provide adequate water and hydrants for fire protection.

MORE CARS VISIT CITY IN OCTOBER

Figures released today by George I. Warren of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau show that a total of 425 cars bearing foreign license plates entered the ports of Victoria and Sidney in October, compared with 295 cars entering the same ports in October, 1939, an increase of nearly 44 per cent. These figures were made available through the courtesy of G. A. Yardley, collector of customs.

"These figures are very gratifying," Mr. Warren said today, "particularly so as it is over a month past the regular tourist season."

The figures also show that for the 10 months ending October 31, 9,631 cars bearing foreign license plates were cleared through the two ports, as compared with 9,309 for the same period last year, an increase of 3 1/2 per cent.

Included in last month's total were 135 cars from California, 142 from state of Washington, 103 from Oregon, and several from Washington, D.C., Florida and New York, and 12 other states. Two from Hawaii and one from Mexico were also on the list.

Veterans Over 45 To Get Relief

The provincial government today agreed to relax its relief so that single war veterans over the age of 45 years will be granted allowances. At present no relief is granted single men under 50.

Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, agreed to the change in the age limit so far as veterans are concerned, in response to a submission of a Canadian Legion delegation, consisting of W. McKinstry, provincial president; T. M. Harnett and Lieut. Col. Macgregor Macintosh. They explained the 50-year rule worked hardship on veterans in their late forties, who could not get employment. Mr. McKinstry said about 75 men are affected by the order.

Have You Seen the New Pianos?

MANY a house gets along with an old upright, bought many years ago, when a new Nordheimer would be bringing untold pleasure for a very little cash outlay.

The newest Nordheimer is an instrument designed for the modern home. It is small—space saving—yet it has all the musical brilliance and keyboard responsiveness for which the Nordheimer has been famous.

Around the Docks

MAQUINNA DELAYED BY HEAVY GALE

Southbound from Port Alice and points on the west coast of Vancouver Island, the Maquinna, due to arrive here about 1 tomorrow afternoon, may be delayed in reaching this port owing to the storm raging off the coast.

The B.C. Coast Service admitted the Maquinna was slightly behind schedule yesterday. In view of the force of the gale today, it is considered improbable that the boat will make port on time.

Ms. Skookum No. 2 of the Pacific Salvage Company, southbound with the damaged tug St. Lawrence, is believed to have sought shelter somewhere between Powell River and Vancouver.

Ferry Service Off

Suspension of the Sidney-Anacortes ferry service for the winter months was announced today by the local agents for the Black Ball Line.

Ms. Crosline, which has maintained the service, will resume next spring.

F. Earle, district passenger agent, Victoria.

The return limit provides a three-day visit to various destinations in the interior as excursionists are not required to leave for home until Monday evening, November 18, arriving back at Vancouver early the following morning.

Holiday Fares

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Upturns in United States stock and grain markets inspired a mid-session trading flurry on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today and all futures prices scored fractional gains.

Mills and southern interests were credited with most purchases in the wheat pit. Chicago wheat prices were 3 cents higher just before the close, while Buenos Aires were 1/4 to 1/2 cent lower at noon.

Exporters and shippers purchased approximately 1,000,000 bushels of Nos. 1 and 2 northern in the cash wheat market for shipment from the lakehead into eastern positions. Other business was an odd car basis.

Investment buying appeared in the coarse grain pit and all grains marked up substantial price gains. During the session oats prices were up 1 cent, barley 2 cents, flax 5 cents and rye 1/4 cent. Crushers supported flax and domestic interests purchased oats and barley.

5,000 Men Told on Iraq Pipe Lines

The building of the Iraq pipe lines took three years, and the amount of money spent on them was $50,000,000.

That is no small sum, but when we think of the great toll which went into them, it is no wonder that they cost so much. The route was from the northern part of Iran to the coast of the Mediterranean Sea.

A view of Iraq pipe lines in a hilly region.

The two pipes traveled together for 165 miles. Then they parted; one was led across Syria to a seaport city, the other across Palestine to the city of Haifa. During the past few months, Italian aviators have spent a good deal of time bombing Haifa.

Hundreds of miles of the pipe line routes lie across deserts. How could all that steel pipe be taken out across the waste lands?

Trucks—large motor trucks—supplied the answer. The trucks were fitted with extra-broad wheels and tires, so they would not sink so deeply into the sand. Into them were loaded pieces of pipe from 36 to 40 feet long. About 127,000 tons of pipe were used in the project.

Five thousand workmen labored on the project. The pieces of pipe were put in place, and were fitted together.

It was a problem to keep the men supplied with food and water. Trucks brought them supplies, but in several places wells were drilled for water.

The length of one of the Iraq pipe lines is about 300 miles. The other is 320 miles long.

Gravity may do all the work in moving oil in the case of a short pipe line, but a long one over an up-and-down route needs pumps. Pumping stations were built about 100 miles apart, and a 500-horsepower engine was placed in each of them.

When at last the pipe lines were finished, oil was sent through them. It was found that between them they could handle more than 11,000 tons of oil per day. The oil flows through pipes in the harbors, and 340 tons of it can be put aboard a tanker in an hour.

In olden times the stories of the "Arabian Nights" were told. There was magic in them, including a flying carpet and a wonderful lamp.

Today scientists and inventors have made possible "magic" of many kinds, and not the least is the transport of oil through pipes near the borders of Arabia.

HOROSCOPE

Friday, November 8

This should be a fortunate day in industry. Benefic aspects dominate workers. Factories should speed production under this rule of the stars.

There should be quick obedience to what the head of the family desires today. The rule is most favorable for beginnings that promise domestic good fortune. Sons and daughters should awaken to responsibilities and should assume tasks that may be of benefit to the community in which they live. This is a time to give up the pursuit of pleasure as a chief interest.

Conflict between the inclination to pursue comfortable ways of life and the urge of patriotism will be evident as persons of varying views contemplate the coming winter. While men within the army age make great sacrifices or prepare for them, girls will dedicate themselves to high service in the cause of human betterment. Many will join the ranks of splendidly-trained nurses and others will qualify in vocations that aid the unfortunate.

When foreign astrologers read in the July-August planetary influences "the beginning of the end," they foretold for the British ultimate survival and victory, but prophesied a long conflict. In pursuing a course of greatest danger in his persistent attacks on London, Hitler was believed to mark the star of his decline, which may not be evident for many months. Hitler's Mars, released from the restraint of Saturn, is of evil portent for Hitler. Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of success in business. Much travel is indicated.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I have been happily married for 20 years. Have two very fine children. My husband has been ideal. He is hard-working, industrious and has given me all the luxuries of life. He has fine morals and has had no affairs with women.

I am considered attractive, and wherever we go the men make a big fuss over me. They tell me how pretty I am and, of course, this pleases me. Many men kiss me while dancing and on other occasions. I have seen nothing wrong in this as the kisses have meant nothing to me, but my husband gets furious. He tells me that a married woman has no right to permit men to kiss her, and says that when they do they think that I will probably lend myself to an affair with them.

He has asked me to refuse to allow other men to kiss or neck me. Says it makes him unhappy. I enjoy these little kisses. I think they keep me feeling young, and that my husband is too narrow-minded and jealous in this regard. Shall I agree to his request?

N. G. R.

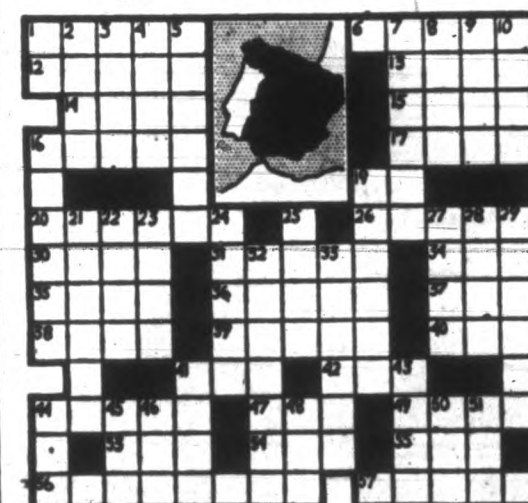

Answer: Unless you want to find out some day that you have exhausted your husband's patience and forbearance and that he has divorced you. The wonder is that he hasn't done it long ago. But don't try him too far. Evidently he is getting fed up on your conduct and, in the end, you know, even the humblest worm turns.

Apparently you have no real affection for your husband, or else you would not be so avid for the kisses your dancing partners bestow upon you. Nor would you get such a kick out of their phony love-making.

But, even so, don't you think you would make a pretty poor bargain to swap off all the comforts and luxuries your husband gives you, to say nothing of his love, for the thrill of a few little affairs that tickle your vanity because they make you feel that you still have the power to attract men?

DOROTHY DIX.

Shipping Rate Blocks B.C. Eggs

Shipping rates to the United Kingdom are blocking shipment of between 18,000 and 20,000 cases of British Columbia eggs to Britain, D. E. MacKenzie of New Westminster told the agricultural committee of the Legislature yesterday.

Mr. MacKenzie, a member of the advisory board to Farmers' Institutes, said the Ministry of Shipping's rate of $3.25 per 100 pounds by way of the Panama was prohibitive.

Recently some eggs have moved by rail to the Atlantic coast and to Britain. The rate on this route has been cut to $3.

Mr. MacKenzie said Fraser Valley egg producers face starvation if the problem is not remedied.

R. S. O'Meara, trade extension director for the government, said his office was seeking a solution in negotiations through the High Commissioner for Canada in London.

He said there appeared to be some confusion between the food and shipping ministries. The food ministry had set a maximum price for eggs which B.C. producers could not meet because of the high shipping rate.

The farmers also appealed to the committee for professional hunters to shoot wolves in the Cariboo, where, they said, the predatory animals are depleting sheep and cattle herds. The bounty system is not sufficiently attractive to hunters to combat the wolves, they said.

A more equitable system of school taxation in farming districts was urged, and also means of assisting farmers to clear additional acreage.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL FOR THEFT

Stanley F. Mockford, charged with breaking and entering by night the premises of C. E. Bent, Jordan River, and stealing more than $300 in cash, was committed for trial by Magistrate Henry C. Hall in Provincial Police Court yesterday afternoon.

H. W. Davey appeared as prosecutor. Stuart Henderson appeared for accused.

Evidence showed that the money was stolen from its hiding place between two mattresses on Bent's bed and some from cigarette tins used for cash, late on the night of October 26, or the morning of October 27.

Mr. Bent, proprietor of the store and postoffice, testified he received the money from a Mr. Rough, who brought it to the Jordan River store for safekeeping. Witness said he placed the money between the mattresses and last saw it about noon on October 26. He left the premises about 9 that night for a party, and did not return until between 2 and 2:30.

According to testimony accused was allegedly on his way to hospital in Victoria with appendix trouble. Testimony by witnesses was to the effect Mockford did not have any money prior to October 26.

Sergt. G. A. Johnson said Mockford had made no request to be examined by a doctor since he had been in jail.

Life-saving Awards for B.C.E.R. Men

The nine men, who received medals and certificates from the B.C. Electric, in recognition of the work they have done in saving the lives of company employees. From left to right they are: C. E. Topp, P. John, C. W. Quest, C. E. Bradshaw, J. W. Casey, E. Lalonde, G. W. Songhurst, F. Morrison and W. Ball.

In a ceremony in the Douglas street store of the B.C. Electric Railway Company yesterday afternoon, A. T. Goward, vice-president of the firm, presented nine employees with medals and certificates for the saving of human life during the past year.

At the presentation, awards were given to C. E. Bradshaw, C. W. Quest, W. Ball, P. John, E. Lalonde, C. E. Topp, and the line department medal and certificate to J. Casey for the successful emergency resuscitation of three fellow workers. The three men were rendered unconscious when a portion of their equipment made contact with a 60,000 volt current. Aided by first aid treatment by other crew members they subsequently recovered.

G. Songhurst of the Bay Street power station merited the certificate and life-saving medal for endeavoring to effect artificial respiration on a fellow worker who was shocked in an accident last year. F. D. Morrison was also presented with a certificate for the leading part he has taken in first aid training within the firm.

C. A. Cornwall, assistant superintendent of the B.C. Electric, gave a description of each of the accidents, after which Mr. Goward presented the men with their awards. He complimented them on their work and first aid knowledge, and paid tribute to Mr. Cornwall, who initiated the first aid classes among the company employees some years ago, and who has been continuously active in first aid work ever since. ## Provinces Invited To Conference

OTTAWA (CP)—The provincial governments have been invited by Prime Minister Mackenzie King to a Dominion-provincial conference to discuss the implementation of the recommendations of the Royal Commission on Dominion-provincial Relations.

The Prime Minister informed the House of Commons this afternoon that he had written each of the provincial premiers last Saturday.

Since Parliament adjourned last August the government had had opportunity to study the recommendations of the report, he said.

"The report commends itself strongly to the government," said Mr. King in his letter to premiers, "and we would like an opportunity to present our view to the provinces so that we might reach some agreement with the provinces respecting these recommendations."

The Dominion government, he said, had suggested the middle of January for the proposed conference.

SOME DRINKERS PASS DRIVING TESTS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Scientific evidence that some people can toss off five or six drinks of liquor in 15 minutes and still handle the steering wheel and brakes of an automobile better than certain others who are cold sober is reported by two California researchers.

Drinking, they state, undoubtedly lowers driving efficiency. But they found that while a given amount of alcohol in the blood, for instance, enough to make the average person unsteady, might make some unfit to sit behind the wheel, it had no significant effect on the driving efficiency of many others.

NO YARDSTICK

They concluded there were no scientific grounds for setting a definite figure on alcohol in the blood as a yardstick for intoxication; that one might just as well use a person's height rather than a pair of scales to determine his weight.

The report was prepared for the Journal of the American Medical Association by Dr. Henry Newman, neuropsychiatrist at Stanford University Medical School, and Edwin Fletcher of the state motor vehicle department.

They tested a group of physicians, medical students and high school graduates as representative of a cross-section of intelligent drivers, by a series of trials simulating actual traffic conditions as nearly as possible. The trials were made on a driving test machine, not on the highway.

Want Free Fares On Holiday Leave

Victoria families of men in the services away from home have joined a movement started in Vancouver to secure free transportation for men who are being granted Christmas or New Year leave. Suggestions have been made that the government pay half the travel cost and the transportation companies pay the other half.

Approximately 1,500 names are already signed on a petition to go to Ottawa, with petition forms out to many clubs.

"It is rather absurd to give a man leave with the initial purpose of spending it with his parents or family if he isn't the money to pay for his transportation home," Captain M. C. Robinson, blind veteran of the first Great War, told a Vancouver meeting. Captain Robinson said the Co-ordinating Veterans' Association, representing 62 veterans' organizations, had already considered transportation of men on furlough and had found certain difficulties.

He said the Co-ordinating Veterans' Association would be glad to give the petition full consideration.

Captain Robinson said that while he did not recall free transportation being issued to men in Canada during the last war, conditions "were different then."

"In this war," he pointed out, "the men remain in Canada for a much longer period."

"I do think it most reasonable for soldiers during furlough or on emergencies, such as death in the family, at the discretion of the commanding officer, to be granted free transportation," he said.

First batch of petitions will go to Ottawa this week.

British Recapture Town in Sudan

CAIRO (AP)—British troops have recaptured Gallabat, on the Sudan-Ethiopia frontier, from the Italians. British general headquarters in the Middle East announced today.

Gallabat is on the Sudan side of the line, about 75 miles west of Lake Gondar, Ethiopia. Italian troops moved into the town soon after Italy entered the war.

A British column early yesterday surprised and retook the town with the help of the Royal Air Force, imprisoning part of the garrison. Then, a communiqué stated, the Italians counter-attacked, but they were successfully repulsed. Two heavy Italian bombings followed.

Farther north, in the Kassala sector on the Sudan-Eritrea frontier, a British mobile unit is pressing an Italian force, the communiqué added.

ITALIAN REPORT

ROME (AP)—A communiqué from the Italian high command today said:

"In east Africa the enemy attacked our positions at Gallabat. Repelled by our garrison, the enemy suffered considerable losses and later resumed attacks. The action is still under way. Our air force co-operated with our troops in repeated attacks, during which our fighters shot down six enemy Gloster planes."

Was Victim of Gassy Stomach

Mr. Tamboline Suffered After Every Meal—Had Sharp Pains Across Back Due to Sluggish Bowels—Now Mosby's Tonic Has Given Him Relief and He Feels Like Himself Again

Some of the Best-known People of This Whole Western Section are praising and endorsing Mosby's Tonic. This New, Scientific Medicine is now being introduced to the public daily in this city at the Cunningham Drug Store. Just a few days ago, Mr. V. A. Tamboline of 2811 West 12th St., Vancouver, B.C., made the following statement. Mr. Tamboline has lived in the West 40 years and is widely known. His Grateful Testimonial about Mosby's Tonic reads as follows:

Food Soured, Fermented, Caused Gas Bloating
"I had become a regular victim of stomach gas and sluggish bowels," said Mr. Tamboline. "I had such an upset stomach that everything I ate would sour and ferment in my stomach and I would fill up with loads of gas. I was afraid to eat because of the gas pains I always suffered afterward. My bowels were so sluggish that I was subject to sharp pains across my back. I couldn't sleep properly at night, and just felt weak and rundown."

"Well, that's the condition I was in, and I certainly was a discouraged person, for I tried about every medicine I heard of and never got any real results from anything. Then one day I read about Mosby's Tonic and what it was doing for so many people. I got it, and now I want to say that it has done me more good than all the other medicines I took put together. It cleared the gas and sourness from my stomach so that I can eat without distress now. It also relieved those pains in my back and regulated my bowels. I can't praise Mosby's Tonic enough after what it did for me, and I gladly give you my statement and urge others, who suffer like I did, to get this splendid Medicine and take it."

Many Ingredients
Mosby's Tonic is a medicine of many ingredients, that is, it contains 15 roots and herbs blended with 9 other splendid medicinal ingredients. ALL AT ONCE. It helps clean out stomach gas—aid digestion—helps sluggish bowels—stimulates you to sleep and brings back sleep. Try this now, Mosby's Tonic. It is helping thousands of sufferers all over this country. Costs only a few cents a day!
